Residents Protest Bar Reopening, Rock Music

"It's our neighborhood and we've got a right to say what goes on there!"

That was the theme Tuesday night in Borough Hall as Council heard over two hours of impassioned protests against (1.) re-opening of a bar on Lytle Street and (2.) amplified rock music in Marquand Park.

In a lengthy presentation, Mrs. Kathleen Edwards of the John-Witherspoon Citizens Association protested the Borough Zoning Board's recent action allowing re-opening of the OK Bar at 16-18 Lytle Street.

Lytle, a short residential street, already has one package liquor store and a club license (American Legion). The Citizens Association pointed out that liquor store customers don't drink on the premises and that a club license restricts drinkers to club members.

A public bar, on the other hand, is a public bar. Its customers might well spill out into the quiet street when the bar closes each midnight. They might trespass on the private property of homeowners and by their presence, reduce the value of these homes.

Robert F. Mooney, Borough Administrator, read 18 letters from residents of Lytle Street, chiefly home-owners, objecting to reopening the OK. The bar's license has been held by Mrs. Theresa Nini, but the bar itself has been closed for about seven years due to Mrs. Nini's illness. She has continued to renew her license each year, and now wants to sell it to Paul Harvey of Lambertville.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley explained that the zoning board would have preferred to eliminate the OK (it is a prior nonconforming use: an old business in an area now residential), but lawyers advised that courts have said a license can't be denied just because it hasn't been used for a time.

In a matter like this, Council can't take any legal action. The only thing people can do is take the zoning board's decision to court, Mayor Cawley explains.

However, the Mayor announced that Mrs. Nini's application for transfer of her license to Mr. Harvey will come before Council on Tuesday, August 10. Council has the power to deny transfer of the license, and without a license, Mr. Harvey can't re-open the OK.

Mayor Cawley invited all the Lytle Street residents and neighbors who crowded into Borough Hall this Tuesday, to come back again August 10, and from the cheer that went up, Council can probably expect to see them all.

Letters from Lytle residents made numerous points. One mother said that as it is, she can't leave her four-year-old daughter on the porch to play because "passing men are too friendly." Another resident reminded Council of the playground at the corner of Lytle and John, and suggested that a bar isn't a good thing to have so close to a playground for little children.

Wilbert Brooks, 188 John, in the audience, commented sharply, "There are no bars west of Bayard Lane or east of Pine," and proposed other uses for 16-18 Lytle, such as a day-care center or a two-family house.

Many said they had only friendly feelings toward Mrs. Nini herself, and were opposed only to the re-opening of the bar.

About that rock in Marquand . . . the brand-new, Summertime '71 organization called Flight Two has been set up by the Youth Concerns arm of the Council of Community Services to provide "something to do" in Princeton this summer for older youth.

As explained to Council by Barrie Peterson, Seminary graduate who is full-time director for Flight Two "The idea is to apply adult resources, like money and the ability to get red-tape cut, to support youth's own ideas. This is a new approach: young people implementing their own ideas, finding out for themselves how Princeton operates — who's cooperative and who isn't."

Almost the first thing they found out is that older people don't like amplified hard rock. A pair of rock concerts in Marquand Park drew a roar of protest almost as loud as the rock itself.

Those in particular anguish were residents of Lovers Lane who live across the street from Marquand and who told Council that window glass rattled from the noise and that vibrations from the sound could be felt by placing a hand on a door.

Sparked by a long letter from Michael P. Barnett, 17 Lovers Lane, members of the audience including a bass player from one of the concerts, an RCA physicist who lives on Lovers Lane and Mr. Barnett, live, engaged in a running debate on decibels, the nature of sound and the possibility of permanent ear damage from amplified volume turned clear up to there.

Besides, the concerts caused traffic problems. Robert Serrell, 39 Lovers Lane, said somebody parked in his driveway, and people trampled his lawn. A neighbor was asked to provide electricity, he said, but refused because a cable stretched across Lovers Lane would be both illegal and dangerous.

Sail into Summer

Sailboats on Lake Carnegie, stiff in a spanking breeze, or idling along with a lazy wind, are one of Princeton's prettiest summer sights.

Pictured on TOWN TOPICS' cover this week, is a small flotilla near the boat house at the mouth of Harry's Brook in the Shady Brook area just off the Princeton-Kingston Road. Some of the sails are broadly striped with bright colors that brighten the blues and greens of sky and trees.

Marie Bellis of Hopewell, is the photographer.

TAKE THAT! Heat in the 90s and drooping pants doesn't stop two and a-half year old Jimmy Womack, 32 Markham Road, from taking a good cut at the teatkerball in the Harrison Street playground.

The discussion's volume was turned down to a more sedate level by testimony from two Marquands, one in the audience and one a letter-writer.

Mrs. Eleanor Marquand Delaney, 62 Battle Road, said the document deeding the park from her family to the Borough, specified "peace and quiet" from 10 p.m. to 9 a.m. She suggested the Council-appointed committee charged with keeping an eye on the park, might talk about alternative places for rock concerts.

Mrs. Mary Marquand Hochschild, 150 Stockton, wrote Council that the park was intended as an arboretum, a playground for little children, and a tranquil spot for the elderly.

"You say 'for children and for the elderly' — where, are WE supposed to enjoy ourselves?" demanded Bryce Hereford.

Battlefield Park, University-owned Poe Field, east of Baker Rink, and the University's field where the Princeton Hospital Fete was held, were all mentioned as alternatives.

However, Councilman Martin P. Lombardo explained that the University-required proctor fees made Poe Field too expensive (several young people charged that the "University wouldn't let us have Poe Field"), and a Flight Two spokesman said fees for the Fete field would be even higher.

Also, none of these locations has grills for cook-outs, which Marquand Park has. A concert has been scheduled for the Battlefield Park for Saturday, July 24, a Flight Two-er said.

"We don't want to be shipped out of town," said Scott Marshall, "and why should we use the University's fields? This is a town problem." He also spoke scornfully of testimoney about car damage as "scare tactics."

Flight Two young people did admit the volume was pretty high at both Marquand concerts. Many speakers conceded that Flight Two should at least have informed residents in advance what was about to happen, and more than one youth said "I can understand that people might have discomfort from loud music."

Charles Roth, who said he had played drums eight years "and I've heard every word said tonight," told Council that permission to hold the concerts had been granted by Mr. Mooney, under the usual procedure for use of Marquand Park.

"We were told we could play until 10, but the cops chased us away at 8:45," he charged, "and some of us were getting paid for playing. But I won't say it wasn't loud."

Come to a Picnic!

This Saturday at 6 p.m. in Marquand Park, all residents of the Park area, plus people who live near Battlefield Park, Community Park or any other area where rock concerts might conceivably be held, are invited to a picnic.

Flight Two, the Youth Concerns-sponsored summer group, will be host. At the picnic, people will talk about finding a place where young people can hold concerts, and to develop, as a community, ways these rock concerts can be held so that everybody will be happy.

Soccer games are also part of Marquand Park life this summer the youths said. Commenting on a suggested regulatory ordinance presented by Samuel Lambert II, secretary-treasurer of the Marquand Park Foundation and lawyer for several residents, many youths said they were afraid any restrictions on the number of people who could gather in Marquand would make soccer games impossible, and again the question arose, "but where can we go?"

A softer tone began to be heard. Mayor Cawley suggested neighbors and youth might sit down together to work out the kind of sound that would be acceptable. The Borough itself plans sound measurements, he said. And he added, "any location will bring problems."

Incidentally, Marquand Park is in the Borough. But all of Lovers Lane and its residents, are in the Township.

The ordinance placing Council salries on the ballot for a November referendum, will be introduced in August, said sponsor Councilman Robert Hendry. Included on the ballot, at Mayor Cawley's request, will be the question of a raise for the mayor.

Mr. Hendry, who was expected to introduce his ordinance Tuesday, said he wanted to wait so public hearing could be in September, when more people might be present.

Council heard a resolution from the Princeton Regional Planning Board asking a restudy by the state of the proposed intersection of the 92-A by-pass and Route 206.

Council passed, 4-1 (John Strange absent), the Mutual Aid Police Agreement under which the Borough, upon decision of the Chief of Police, would go to the aid of a neighboring municipality.

The dissenter was Councilman Joseph Moore who said later that he objected to giving the chief, or another senior office, that much power. He could act without Council's knowing anything about it, Mr. Moore said. He added that it was not "mutual aid" but a "one-way street — helping Trenton in a riot, and if that's the intent, it isn't mutual aid."

Mr. Lombardo cast another "nay" on awarding the bid for re-doing Library Place, because only one contractor had submitted a bid. The rest of Council voted to accept that lone bid.

Night swimming is out for the summer at Community Park's pool. Councilman Cornforth reported that Public Service lights were so weak that life-guards, in a test, could not see the bottom of the pool.

Mr. Lombardo urged more night recreation programs, especially for teens, naming soccer games and seriousness in Princeton parks as possibilities.

HOSPITAL CENTER OPENS

Tax Rolls Lose. "Princeton House," the new 84-bed mental health center of Princeton Hospital, will hold an open house this Sunday from 1-5 p.m. for all residents of the area. Guided tours will be conducted and refreshments served.

Princton House is located on the corner of Mt. Lucas and Herrontown Roads, just off Route 206.

The new mental health center was purchased by Princeton Hospital for $2,070,00. Mercer County records show a $1.4 million mortgage.

When Princeton House was privately-owned, it was assessed by the Township for $66,782.56 in taxes. As the property of Princeton Hospital, a non-profit corporation, Princeton House will be tax-exempt.

Tax figures in the Township show that, in addition to the $66,782, the municipality will lose about $7,000 in taxes from private property purchased by the hospital in 1970 for its own use — chiefly houses in the hospital's neighborhood. These properties were assessed at $195,900, full value.

Princeton Township has budgeted $10,000 to pay the hospital in 1971 for care of medically indigent Township residents. In 1970, this figure was $23,000 and for many years prior to 1970 it was approximately that sum.

The contribution was cut back to the $10,000 figure this year because the Township's hospital bills were considerably lower than the amount appropriated over the years. In fact, according to Administrator Joseph R. Nini, the Township probably won't even have to spend all the $10,000.

Princeton Hospital does not make any "payment in lieu of taxes" in contrast to Princeton University, which contributes $15,000 a year to the Borough. It does not make any such flat payment to the Township.

However, when the University took over the Princeton Inn, it promised to pay, on a reduced scale over a period of 10 years, an annual sum to ease the tax loss whenever University purchase of a property took that property off the tax rolls.

Patients. Princeton House will treat both in-and-out patients. It will offer care for emergency mental illness, acute psychiatric problems and psychiatric problems involving long-term care such as those suffered by the senile aged.

Rehabilitation of alcoholics and persons suffering the effects of drug abuse will also be part of the facilities. The mental health center will provide emergency treatment and rehabilitation through drug and shock therapy, individual and group therapy, family counselling and community education. Programs for the care of drug addicts will be available for all age groups, including teens.

Dr. Edwin D. Rogers, chairman of Princeton Hospital's psychiatry department, will serve as acting director of Princeton House until a full-time psychiatrist is hired as medical director.

AGREE TO POSTPONEMENT

Of Housing Study Publication. A dust-storm that swirled up over threatened premature publication of the Princeton Regional Planning Board's housing study, has settled.

Dr. George Sternleib, director of the Center for Urban Studies at Rutgers and director of the survey for the Princeton board, agreed last week to postpone publication of the study until the planning board has released it to the Princeton community — probably no earlier than October.

The housing survey, commissioned by the board in May, 1970 for $15,000, was scheduled four publication, much to the planning board's pained surprise, by Transaction Books of Rutgers as "The Affluent Suburb: Princeton," with a price-tag of $9.95 in hard cover.

"We have no objection to having the book published," explained William Miller, attorney for the planning board, "but it was unseemly that the consultant should publish before the client did."

The board's Sub-Committee on Housing has been studying the report. The board's new consultant, Charles Agle, has been examining the lengthy and detailed document so that he can contribute to discussions.

The group doesn't plan to make the report public until it has specific recommendations to make, based on the facts in the document. It certainly didn't expect to be scooped by its own paid consultant.

The contract between the planning board and Dr. Sternleib made no mention of any publication of the report by the consultant, "but such a stipulation must certainly go into any contracts we sign from now on," stated planning board chairman Hans K. Sander.

Last week, Mr. Sander, Mr. Miller and Dr. Sternleib met to talk it over. Mr. Miller says that Dr. Sternleib offered his apologies, and agreed to delay publication of the study.

"I'm satisfied — we have his assurance that publication will be in sequence, following the planning board's own release" Mr. Miller said.

Next week, the board will meet in executive session to talk about timing, and to give Dr. Sternleib a date, Mr. Sander said.

Meanwhile, the housing subcommittee plans to spend all sumer studying the survey and blocking out the recommendations they will make to the whole board.

Mrs. Golda Gottlieb is chairman of the sub-committee. Its other members are Robert van de Velde, who will be absent for the summer deliberations, Joseph R. Nini, Mrs. Alice Male, James A. Floyd and Mr. Sander.

SCHOOL BUS TO WORK?

Mayhe. Park your car in a lot on the outskirts of town — perhaps one of the many church parfking lots — then hop a Princeton school hus to the center of town and your job.

That's a possihility for people working in Princeton which will he explored later this month hy the new Joint Borough-Township Transportation Commission.

The Commission will meet July 28 with Chris Vlisedes of Mercer Metro, the county-owned bus company; Charles Agle, planning consultant for the Princeton Regional Planning Board, and William Karch, manager of facilities services for the Princeton Regional Schools, to talk about Princeton's knotty transportation and traffic problems.

As sketched above, one possibility involves schools, churches and various other institutions with nice big parking lots. Churches like the Unitarian, off Route 206 on Cherry Hill Road; Friends Meeting House, off Mercer Road on Quaker Bridge, and All Saints, off Snowden Lane, plus the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, off Terhune and North Harrison might turn over some of their parking spaces to all-day parkers. (A nice lot of parking spaces down by Jadwin Cage, too, belonging to the University.)

People living outside town and working inside town, could leave their cars in any of these places and, between 8:30 and 9 a.m. or so, jump into a school hus and be driven to Palmer Square. The school bus would, by that time, have completed its delivery of young scholars.

Once at Palmer Square, the employee would either walk to work, or — here here's where Mercer Metro comes in—take another bus, perhaps down Witherspoon Street to a job at Princeton Hospital. At the end of the working day, the process would he reversed.

The Transportation Commission wants to talk with Mr. Vlisedes about re-routing Mercer Metro buses to go down Nassau to Witherspoon and the Hospital, then circle back by way of Mt. Lucas, Ewing and the Shopping Center to Palmer Square.

So far, all this is in the very early stages. Many legal questions arise concerning such a use of school buses for example. State approval would certainly be needed because the state pays back 75% of bus costs to the Princeton Regional School district.

Also, there has been no discussion of rentals that might be paid to the institutions providing parking spaces, or how much people would pay for parking there.

Perhaps the great and looming question is this — would people working in Princeton really use such a system?

The Joint Transportation Commission was appointed early this year and held its initial meeting in May. John Lasley is chairman. Borough members are Mrs. Alice Male, John Hoff, Miss Jesse Sewell, Thomas A. Moore and Miss Susan Mapes. Township members are Mrs. Richard Bergman, Edwin Hutter, William P. Starr Jr., Donald V. Venable and Mr. Lasley.

WELFARE LAW UPHELD

By Federal Court. New Jersey's new welfare laws were upheld in Federal Court by a ruling last Thursday from U.S. District Court Judge Clarkson S. Fisher.

The new laws, which went into effect July 1, were challenged by the National Welfare Rights Organization and 18 groups allied to the Organization.

They charged that New Jersey's new program took welfare standards below minimum Federal standards. Judge Fisher ruled, however, that individual states have the power to determine the "standard of need" for their own citizens. This is the standard used as a guide to determine what each welfare client should receive, and it varies from state to state.

"It cannot be said that New Jersey has in any way lowered its standard of need," he declared. "What the state has done, is attempt to develop a uniform and objective system of grant determination, and to effect an improvement in the administration of the welfare program.

Under the July 1 regulations about 7,000 families were removed from welfare rolls under changes in the working-poor program. It has been estimated that the changes will save the state $15 million and the counties another $3 million.

New Jersey now gives welfare clients a fixed monthly payment to cover rent, which was formerly paid directly to landlords. Judge Fisher declined to accept attorneys' arguments that the flat rent payments were insufficient.

Judge Fisher said that because the new working-poor program does not receive matching Federal funds, it does not come under the jurisdiction of a Federal court.

The new welfare law requires that parents in the working-poor program be legally married, and welfare attorneys charged this was a violation of the 14th amendment to the United States Constitution, which guarantees equal protection.

Judge Fisher ruled that the state has a right to favor the family as a social unit and to discourage illegitimacy.

Sunny days and cool nights are everybody's favorite and the weather should continue that way at least through Thursday before it starts to heat up a bit more for the weekend. VERNON IS CHARGED

In Thefts from Cars. Eddie J. Vernon Jr., 18, of Magie Apartments, has been charged hy Township police with larceny from automobiles. Later released, he is scheduled to appear in court August 4.

Vernon was observed Thursday evening breaking into a car parked in a Community Park lot opposite the tennis courts. He allegedly tried to steal a stereo set and 35 mm camera with a combined value of $350.

He was arrested a half hour later in the vicinity of Leigh and John Streets where he was identified, police said, by the owner of the car. Armed with a search warrant signed by Judge Burton Peskin, police searched his car and uncovered articles allegedly stolen from other cars.

Police report that before his detection at Community Park, a car parked in a University lot had been forced open some 15 minutes earlier and that a second car had been entered at Community Park.

Charges against Vernon concerning the other stolen property are pending, police said.

Charged with TV Theft. Frank A. Boccanfuso Jr., 20, 32 Oakland Road, was arrested hy Township police Friday and charged with larceny.

Acting on a complaint signed hy his hrother, Michael, police said that Boccanfuso had stolen the set June 28 from his brother who lives at the same address. He faces a hearing in Township court.

POLICE CHARGE MAN

With Stolen Bike Possession. Larry Spruill 20, 82 Clay Street, was arrested Saturday night at Franklin Avenue and Jefferson Road by police who charged him with possession of a stolen, 10-speed racing bike.

Making the arrest were Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Ptl. Victor Fasanella. The previous day, a 16-year-old juvenile was arrested on Nassau Green and charged with possession of a stolen bicycle and drinking alcohol.

"In a bike-oriented community such as Princeton, a lot of bikes are stolen during the course of a year, and we've been successful in getting some of the property back," commented Lt. Michael Carnevale. He added that 10 and 15-speed bicycles represented a considerable investment to their owners.

TEENAGER IS CHARGED

With Check Offenses. James E. Miller, 18, 7 Lytle Street, has been charged by Borough police with possession of stolen checks, cashing forged checks and possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

He was arrested on a warrant last week at his home by Detective Timothy Huizing and Ptl. Thomas Michaud.

Presently being held in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $500 bail, Miller faces a hearing in Borough Court on Wednesday. His arrest, climaxing a two-week- investigation, was one that police said was imminent, following a series of bad checks that have been passed in the community.

Lt. Michael Carnevale said that more arrests would be made.

BOONE FINED $60

For Breaking Store Window. Anthony Boone, 19, 116 Leigh Avenue, was fined $50 and $10 court costs last week in Borough court for breaking the front window of the A&S Luncheonette with a stone.

Boone was charged by store owner Samuel Davidow with throwing a stone through a plate glass window during a street disturbance on Nassau Street last April 13. A second charge of atrocious assault and battery, also filed by Mr. Davidow, was dismissed by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Two other youths were fined for fighting in front of the A&S, 86 Nassau Street, on June 18.

Edward Vernon, 18, 10 Magie Apartments was fined $15 for poking Francis Hegarty, 20, of East Windsor, with a stick. Hegarty, paid the same amount for striking Vernon in the face with his hand. Ptl. David Alston signed the charges against both.

Three were fined $20 each for trespassing at Wilcox Hall on the Princeton University campus at 2:45 the morning of June 11. They are Richard M. Novatkoski, 20, of Clarksville Road; John H. Wells, 18, 448 Walnut Lane; and Thomas J. Fowler Jr., 19, also of Clarksville Road.

Rupert Williams, 34, 116 Witherspoon Street, paid $20 for assault. According to the complainant, Joann Benson, 28 Green Street, Williams pulled her by the left arm into his house at 12:15 in the morning last month.

In other cases, Arline M. Graham, 44, 54 Maclean Circle, was fined $25 for trespassing on the property of Mary L. Graham, 108 Westerly Rd; David M. Toole Jr., 41, 27 Chestnut Street, paid $25 for using loud and profane language against Mary M. Goedde of the same address; and Audrey L. Spooner, 36, of Rte. 1 paid $20 for forging a prescription for a stimulant drug at Thorne's Pharmacy.

Charges of trespassing, resisting arrest and using loud and offensive language against Harold L. Humes Jr., 45, were adjourned.

Humes, who has no known address, is being held in Trenton Jail on a detainer by the Trenton police and Borough officials were unable to obtain his release for his hearing here.

2-YEAR PAY RAISE WON

By Township Police. The 28-member Township police department has agreed to a $1,600 pay increase over the next two years.

The new package, hammered out after months of negotiations with the aid of attorney Lawrence Stein, provides for an $850 increase this year and $750 next year. It is retroactive to January 1.

After four years in grade, a Township patrolman will now receive a top of $11,250. Sergeants will receive $12,300, up from $11,375 and the two lieutenants, $13,900, up from $12,850. Base pay for Chief Frederick Porter will be $14,750.

Starting base salary for a patrolman was set by Committee at $9300. Still to be decided by the governing body are the beginning pay level for patrolmen and salaries for sergeants and above for 1972.

Serving on the negotiating committee for the police were Detective Anthony Pinelli, Sgt. David Potts and Patrolmen Anthony Gaylord and David Wilbur.

The $11,250 top salary for patrolmen is $18 more than their Borough counterparts receive. Borough police signed a one-year agreement earlier this year but it also delt with such fringe benefits as compensatory time off. The Township's discussion was limited to a pay increase only.

While the new increase puts the Township police slightly ahead of the Borough, it leaves them behind Lawrence Township police. With it, the Township police have lost some of their former prestige. "We used to be one of the highest paid departments in the state" commented one of the police negotiators. "Not any more. Lawrence and a lot of other communities are ahead of us now."

PEDESTRIAN STRUCK

At University Place & Nassau. A 66-year old pedestrian was struck last week by a car as she was attempting to cross University Place at the intersection of Nassau.

Anne C. Gapp, 28 Mercer Street, was taken in a patrol car to Princeton Hospital where she was admitted for treatment of fractured leg, multiple contusions and puncture wound of the scalp.

Ptl. Thomas Michaud charged the driver, Theodor Gasser, 30, of Lawrence Court, with failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian. Mr. Gasser, turning left onto University from Nassau, told polic that he did not see the victim until the last moment. She was struck when she was halfway across the crosswalk.

MADAME BUTTERFLY AND LT. PINKERTON: Marielaine Mammon and Jeffrey Corelli will sing the lead roles in the Artists' Showcase Theatre production of "Madame Butterfly," on Friday at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing Park. Performances will also be given Thursday and Saturday, all at 8:30 p.m.

News Of The THEATRES

"MADAME BUTTERFLY"

At Open Air Theatre. Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" will be sung in English by singers from the Artists Showcase Theatre of Trenton this weekend in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park.

The production will be presented at 8:30 p.m. this Thursday. Friday and Saturday under the direction of Byron Steele, head of the opera department at Trenton State College. Gerald E. Guarnieri, president of Pennington Players, has designed set and lights.

On Thursday and Saturday, Alicia Blood will sing the role of Butterfly and on Friday the role will be assumed by Marielaine Mammon. Miss Blood sang the roles of Mimi in "La Boheme" and Santuzza in "Cavalleria Rusticana" for the Artists Showcase this past year.

Mrs. Mammon, the former Marielaine LaRusso, has been a music teacher at the John Witherspoon School in Princeton. She has performed at the Amato Opera Theatre in New York, at Trenton State and for Artists Showcase.

On Friday, the role of Lt. Pinkerton will be sung by Jeffrey Corelli and on Thursday and Saturday by Richard Moyer. Mr. Corelli teaches vocal music at Hopewell Valley Regional High School. Mr. Moyer has sung with the Lambertville Music Circus, Opera Intime and The Group Players. He is now a church soloist.

For all three performances, the part of Sharpless will be sung by Herbert Hubsnerger. Suzuki will be sung by Vivian Argilan on Thursday and Friday and Mary Hancik on Saturday.

News Of The Theatres

July 20 - SI will present "The War Lover," John Hersey's chilling examination of a war hero with a talent for extermination. Steve McQueen stars. The film will be shown at the usual 8 p.m. time.

REPERTORY ROLLS ON . . .

"Twelfth Night" This weekend. The second production in Summer Intime's series of summer plays - Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" - will be on stage at Murray Theatre four times this weekend.

The schedule begins this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. and continues with performances this Friday and Saturday and a 7:30 p.m. performance on Sunday. The Sunday performance will be the final one for "Twelfth Night."

Dan Berkowitz, director of "Twelfth Night," is back in Princeton this summer after a term in Berkeley, where he founded The New Stage and produced thereon "A Thurber Carnival" and "Nocturne." For the Berkeley Repertory, he staged "The Misanthrope" and assisted in a presentation of "Danton's Death."

SI audiences from 1970 will recall his performance as Lenny in Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming," and his direction of Tennessee Williams' "Eccentricities of a Nightingale."

BACH MASS TO BE SUNG

To Climax Choral Seminar. Johann Sebastian Bach's "Mass in B minor," conducted by Roger Wagner, will be presented by Westminster Choir College on Saturday, July 24. The 5:30 p.m. concert will be held in the Princeton University Chapel.

The performance will climax a week-long choral seminar that Dr. Wagner will be holding on the Westminster campus.

Participants in the seminar, along with the Westminster Summer Choir and 30 members of next year's Westminster Touring Choir, will sing the choruses, which are mostly in five parts.

An orchestra of 22, including members of the Concerto Soloists of Philadelphia, will accompany the performance.

The Mass, which many, including Dr. Wagner, consider the greatest choral composition ever written, was finished by Bach in 1737 or 1738.

In 1733, Bach presented the Kyrie and Gloria to Frederich Augustus, the Catholic King of Poland and Elector of Saxony, along with a petition for an honorary appointment to the Electoral Chapel; the petition was granted three years later.

"YOUR OWN THING"

At Clinton Summer Theatre. The hit rock musical, "Your Own Thing," the first off-broadway show to win the Drama Critics Circle Award as Best Musical of the year, will be presented by the Clinton Summer Theatre next Wednesday through Sunday, July 21-25.

In the leading roles will be Ivy-Jo Naistadt and David Russell as brother and sister. They have previously performed together in "Cabaret" and "The Apple Tree." David has recently graduated from Ithaca College, and Ivy is a junior majoring in drama.

Playing the zany rock quartet, which is minus one, are Arthur Bicknell, David Cash, and Jeff Martin. Arthur and David are also students at Ithaca College and Jeff Martin is a graduate of Hofstra University.

"Your Own Thing" is the fourth musical to be based on a Shakespearean play. The others are "The Boys From Syracuse," "Kiss Me Kate," and "West Side Story," based respectively on "Comedy of Errors," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "Romeo and Juliet."

"Your Own Thing," based on "Twelfth Night" is different in that it is a rock musical. Written by Hal Hester and Danny Apolinar, it combines rock music, slides, soundtrack tapes, and mime to produce a multimedia effect.

Tickets for "Your Own Thing" and all other shows this summer may be reserved by calling Clinton Summer Theatre. Performance time will be 8:30 through Saturday and 7:30 on Sunday.

DAVID CASSIDY BACK

At Garden State Center. An afternoon performance (3 p.m.) by David Cassidy on Saturday, August 14, has been scheduled by the Garden State Arts Center because the star's main performance, at 7:30 p.m. that evening, has been sold out.

Tickets for the extra performance are now on sale at the Arts Center box-office, P.O. Box 116, Holmdel, New Jersey, 07733, at $2.50 for lawn seating; $3.50, $4.50, $5.75 and $7 for regular sections and $7.50 for box-seats.

The Garden State Arts Center is located at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway. Information may be obtained by calling 201-264-9200.

GARDEN

Willard (now playing) is an above-average story about a mild fellow who raises rats, among them Ben and Socrates.

He cares for his dotty mother (Elsa Lancaster) and knuckles under to his boss (Ernest Borgnine), and then one day, blows a fuse, using his rats for revenge.

As Willard, Bruce Davison at times resembles Anthony Perkins before he mummified his mother in "Psycho." The story, macabre as it is, lacks momentum in the telling.

PRINCE

The Andersoo Tapes (now playing) is an excellent thriller about the methodical ransacking of a small but expensive New York apartment while some of the tenants are still home.

The gang is headed by Sean Connery, who dreams up the caper, and executed with the aid of Dyan Cannon, his girl friend who lives in the building; Alan King, a mobster; Martin Balsam, an interior decorator, and Christopher Walker, a novice burglar.

The main gimmick is that the whole caper is recorded on wire-tapped tapes, which are illegal, but the taped record is not understood. The film has suspense, excitement and good performances. Directed by Sidney Lumet and based upon Lawrence Sanders' best-seller.

"Summer" Stays On

"Summer of '42" enters its fourth week at the Princeton Playhouse on Wednesday, buoyed by line-ups at the box office most evenings.

"It seems to appeal to both young people and their parents," Manager Richard Knight declares. "It's a love story that's well done. I think the film has benefited from word-of-mouth publicity—and of course, it's rated 'R', which helps."

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

NASSAU HOBBY SHOP has expanded into the store next door and has filled the shelves with macrame supplies, Tiffany lantern kits and early American-type tin for tole crafters. Above, owner Hoge Woolwine (left) and Charles Seulerati, his assistant, check the stock.

IT'S NEW To Us

NASSAU HOBBY EXPANDS

Adds Macrame Line. If you've ever tried to read the railroad magazines at Nassau Hobby Center and at the same time avoid getting swatted by the front door, you'll be glad to know the shop has stretched into the former Betty Wright Shop next door and the peril is over.

The new rooms are filled with macrame and decoupage supplies as well as "how-to" books. For those who venture into tole design, owner Hoge Woolwine has an entire section of colonial pattern tinware - from a big coffee pot and a coal scuttle to flat plates, lanterns and even an eight-sided tray.

The hobbyist who loves stained glass must be sure to see the carriage light kit - which comes with lead stained glass alive with color, reproducing the Tiffany glass. It makes a beautiful lamp. There's also a kit for the inverted bowl type of Tiffany lamp. Price about $5, solder included. You need a soldering iron.

To get back to the macrame, whether you are making wall hangings, a vest, a jute-and-wool belt, a poncho, or a cover for a screen, you'll find an interesting supply of materials at Nassau Hobby. Jute or rayon cord in many colors; wooden beads for trim; beginners' kits and a selection of instruction books.

For decoupage, there are wooden boxes and placques, as well as such tools as Patricia Nimocks' "Fun Finish" (a clear laquer-varnish) and Coat Royale decoupage sealer and finish.

There is a complete line of candle supplies, for those who are thinking early about Christmas gifts and decoration. Some of the customers buy the wax and make sandcast candles. Others use the tin molds that Nassau Hobby displays in variety.

We saw regular wax and beeswax; color dye ("tinting wax", 49c); perfume wax with a choice of bayberry, lemon, balsam and magnolia scents (the 59c disc is enough for 10 to 20 pounds of candlewax); and the booklets we browsed through were imaginative and helpful.

At Nassau Hobby you'll find copper enameling kits (a big one for $16.55); a table loom with several heddles $10.95); and a series of kits that give a stained glass look to ordinary glassware ($4.49).

Also in the new section is a print-making set that includes linoleum plates, washable ink, roller, cutter, paper and instructions ($7.10). And a wood burning set for beginning craftsmen.

In a separate section are the oil painting kits that teach a neophyte artist by matching the number of the color to a numbered area on the canvas. Many an art amateur began with one of these kits, venturing into a new world.

For others, there are models to make - from the Cutty Sark Clipper ship to the battleship USS Pennsylvania. And also HO miniature war tanks, and the Bachmann series of mini planes - made to scale, with moving parts.

An item at Nassau Hobby that has drawn a lot of response is the cane and rush material. You'll find Hongkong grass, rope and twine, as well as pre-woven cane. There's an informative little booklet for learning the technique.

are loathe to pour more down the drain.

Former Princeton residents now located at 10 Darrah Lane East, in Lawrenceville, they are distributors of Bestline household products that are over 95 percent bio degradable.

This means, if you have a moment for a science, that they are decomposed and rearranged into simple compounds by the bacteria in the sewage system or septic tank. This is nature's way of destroying pollutents in its endless cycle of purification.

The "hard" chemicals in many detergents destroy these bacteria and cannot be decomposed. Such products are one of the main causes of water pollution. It has been estimated that household washing machines account for about 50 percent of our polluted water.

The Bestline "arsenal of weapons against dirt" are highly concentrated and we found a little bit of "Zif," for instance, the all-purpose cleaner - goes an astonishingly long way. Use Zif for spots on the carpet, upholstery, vinyl and blood stains - mixing one part Zif to 10 parts water. Use a capful or so in the laundry for a whiter wash. Well, clean the oven with it: 1 part Zif, 3 parts water.

Another Bestline contribution to unpolluted streams is "B-70", a phosphate-free laundry powder - highly concentrated, so check the measuring instructions. Use it in hot or cold water.

Then there's "Lemon Lustre" furniture polish; and "Medic-Aid" (a powerful disinfectant and deodorizer with pleasant fragrance); a hair shampoo (dilute at least 5 to 1); and shampoos for rugs and for cars (only a capful in a gallon and a half of water for the car, and you'll find no streak marks or finish damage; 99 washes in each bottle $1.55).

If you have a tennis player in the family, you may want to try the pre-laundry cleaner for those white clothes. It is good for ground-in grime. . . lipstick marks, too. You just spray it on.

There are other products, too, that the Sonnensheins will tell you about. It is interesting that there is a double guarantee on Bestline - the manufacturer's and also Parent's Magazine.

You find the Sonnensheins and Bestline by calling 609-883-6790.

Some Facts and Figures Shed Light on Princeton High

Princeton's residents have many different views of Princeton High School. What are some significant statistics that contribute to an overall picture of the school?

Here are some, assembled by J. Alfred Seitz, formerly Acting Principal and now Assistant Principal, and George Petrillo, Director of Guidance.

What percentage of PHS graduates continue formal education after graduation?

Class of '68 — 84.1%
Class of '69 — 83.6%
Class of '70 — 82%
Class of '71 — 75% (preliminary figure)

What percentage attend a four-year college?

'68 — 63.2%
'69 — 65.7%
'70 — 66%
'71 — 61% (preliminary fig.)

What percentage attend vocational institutions?

'68 — 7.2%
'69 — 6%
'70 — 7%
'71 — 3%

So far, 14% of the Class of '71 have said they are "undecided" about what they will do.

What percentage of those attending four-year colleges are at Ivy League schools?

10% of the class of '71 will enter Ivy League colleges this fall. The figure includes 20 admitted to Princeton, of whom 13 have accepted.

How much scholarship money is available for PHS graduates who need financial aid to continue their education?

$24,000 — in 1969
$30,000 — in 1970
$35,021 — in 1971

This money, including funds from the Career Development Program, is raised in the Princeton community by various organizations. The money is granted to students on the basis of need, not solely on academic standing.

How do PHS students stand in Scholastic Aptitude Test scores?

(800 is a perfect score)

	'68	'69	'70
Verbal	514	526	515
Math.	541	538	549

These are median scores from the November, 1970, administration of the SATs. Since PHS uses "median" scores and Educational Testing Service uses "mean" scores, it is not possible to give a meaningful comparison between PHS students' scores and those of students throughout the country. However, scores of PHS students are above national scores, according to PHS' guidance staff.

How do PHS students rate on achievement tests?

	'68	'69	'70
English	598	573	546
Math.	625	620	603
French	656	679	671

Again, these are median scores of PHS students who took the test. A perfect score is 800.

In reference to test scores, PHS guidance people point out that over the years, more and more students have been taking the SATs. It might seem that this would pull down the median scores, but this doesn't seem to be happening at PHS.

How many students have been National Merit Semifinalists?

'69 — 11
'70 — 18

What is the enrollment of PHS students in non-academic courses at the high school?

In the '70-'71 academic year:

50 juniors and seniors in the Cooperative Trade and Industry classes (school in the morning, a job in the afternoon)

17 students in Distributive Education (retail and merchandising curriculum)

14 advanced Business Education seniors were in a work program.

How many PHS students take courses at the University?

26 — enrolled in the fall semester for advanced French, Spanish and Russian, architecture, math., chemistry, psychology, economics and psychology.

11 of these students received credit; the others audited the courses.

23 enrolled in the spring semester — not necessarily the same as those who attended during the fall; of these 13 received credit.

How many students dropped out in '70-'71 and why?

50 — moved out of the area
13 — transferred to private schools
11 — took full-time jobs
14 — were "disinterested" — reasons for dropping are not known.

A student in New Jersey must be 16 years old to drop out legally.

How many students, graduating from the Middle School's eighth grade will go to private schools instead of to Princeton High?

Because two of the four Middle School guidance counsellors are on vacation, only partial figures are available. A sample of the 350 graduating eighth-graders shows that an estimated 16% applied to private school; an estimated 11% will actually enter private schools in the fall. Thornton Crove, Middle School principal, said these percentages are not significantly different this year from past years.

Mr. Seitz, in comment on the PHS figures, said he believed the school should do more to help students after they leave school — he dislikes the word "drop-out." It is important, he said, to find the student an education outside the school, and he suggested that even "home-bound" studies, the kind normally provided for students with long illnesses, might be one answer.

He also felt it was important for the school to find out more about the reasons why the 14 "disinterested" students left.

George Petrillo, Director of Guidance, commenting on the 14% of this year's class that doesn't know what road it will follow, said he thought most of these were "bright kids" who will travel or pursue other kinds of non-academic work for perhaps a year, and then enter college. This is becoming a national trend, he said.

New Superintendent Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In view of the obvious dissention in the school system, the steadily deteriorating quality of education, and the harassment and resignations of our best teachers, it is high time we started looking for a school superintendent.

As for the overwhelming majority of the voters who stayed home during the last School Board election, we all got what you deserved. Think about that.

Thanks for Fete Success.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Toyland Booth grossed a whale's mouthful at this year's Hospital Fete — almost $800, perhaps a bit more when tallying is complete. This could not have been accomplished without donations of used toys received with the aid of TOWN TOPICS publicity. And many thanks to our satisfied purchasers, too!

It took many hours of volunteer work by members and friends of A.S.P.O., the Lamaze Method of Child-birth organization, to make Toyland Booth a success. Thank you.

NOTICE

Letters to TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox" should be typed, double-spaced, signed and received for publication no later than Monday. No letter will be printed without a valid signature and address. Letters longer than 500 words may be edited or omitted entirely, at the discretion of the editor. Letters on subjects not specifically related to the Princeton area may also be rejected.

Spraying Not Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On Monday our family paid its second consecutive evening visit to the Wildlife Refuge near the Water Comuany. We greatly enjoyed watching the many birds from the observation tower, and then explored the path between Stony Brook and the marsh.

During these pleasant hours, we particularly commented on the total absence of mosquitoes., thanks to their control by the birds—a perfect ecosystem at work.

To our horror, at 7:30 p.m., the Mercer County Mosquito Control Commission spray truck arrived, spewing forth dense clouds of insecticide fog. Since no mosquitoes were present in this area, there was no reason for spraying and many reasons for not spraying.

Princeton Township supports this magnificent Wildlife Refuge—a rare privilege for the citizens of Mercer County—and Mercer County, through our tax dollars, is in the process of destroying the wildlife we are trying to preserve. Why couldn't the Township have prevented this occurrence? It must not happen again.

Opens Pizza, Hits Car. Paul J. Lecompt, 42, of 70 Clay Street was driving up Witherspoon Street Saturday night with a box of pizza on the front seat.

His anticipated meal was interrupted, however, when he told police that he started to open the box and in so doing ran into the rear of a car parked near Clay Street. The result: a ticket for careless driving, extensive front end damage to his station wagon — and some cold pizza.

The parked car was owned by Lydia Griggs of 215 Witherspoon. Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm investigated.

HOPEWELL SHELVES PLAN

For 12-Month School Year. The Hopewell Valley Regional School Board has decided against a proposal for a 12-month school year, and will instead go back to the district's residents hoping to win approval at the polls for a new building.

Voters defeated plans for a $6.9 million bond issue building, 1352-869, in March, for a building to house grades 11 and 12.

In a public meeting following the bond issue defeat, some citizens told the board that an extension of the school year to 12 months might be a feasible alternative. However, at another meeting last month, attended by 400, the consensus appeared to be against such a plan.

Dr. James C. Miller, president of the board, said Monday night that the board has directed its architects, Eckart and Gatarz of New Brunswick, to begin planning another less expensive building. "We are putting the 12 month plan in the holding stage," he said. "We are not pursuing it and we are not rejecting it.

In other business teacher contracts for the coming year representing an 8 percent increase were approved by the board. The contracts provide for a $7,700 to $12,400 salary range for teachers with a bachelor of arts degree, and an $8,200 to $13,200 range for teachers with a masters degree.

SCHOOL GROUP ACTIVE

On Various Issues. "We've had incredible response," said Mrs. Alfred Green this week in reference to the first advertisement placed in TOWN TOPICS July 1 by Parents of Princeton School Children. The second in the group's summer series appears on page 17.

Parents of Princeton School Children is an unincorporated association whose three principals are Mrs. John McLusky, 89 Meadowbrook, chairman; Mrs. Green, of 56 Herrontown Circle, vice-chairman and Mrs. Russell Davidson, 193 Harison Street, treasurer. The "association" is a legal device enabling the group to accept contributions, Mrs. Green stated.

"We are not planning to take any actions," she emphasized, "that is not the purpose of the group at all; we merely want to present information and to keep school issues alive during the summer."

Although the sponsors of the original advertisement were not identified, interested citizens recognized the format of the advertisement as similiar to "Fact sheets" handed out at a recent school board meeting, and traced Mrs. Green through that resemblance, she said.

Mrs. Green declined to identify the source for material in the group's ads except to say "We don't use anything that isn't a fact." She added, "The school board won't answer us."

The next advertisement planned by the group will concern the school budget, Mrs. Green revealed.

DRUG PLAN MAY GET OK

From Governing Bodies. "I fully expect that Borough and Township will agree on this drug project," stated Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week, "but we have questions we want answered." He was referring to proposals of the Institute for Applied Psychotherapy, as outlined by the Princeton Drug Committee of the Council of Community Services.

The I.A.P.'s plan has been laid before the two governing bodies by the Princeton Drug Committee.

The plan envisions a drop-in house for young people with drug problems. Repairing, painting, yard work or other projects would provide a constructive alternative to drug use. Participants would be in a type of encounter group, with "encountering" going on all the time they are working together.

The Princeton Drug Committee is asking Borough and Township to guarantee $6,250 a year each, in case the P.D.C. can't find the $12,500 from other sources. The group has assurances of $37,500 from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency toward the first year's expenses of $50,000, but SLEPA requires that 25% of the funding come from a non-

Water Your Tree!

If the Borough's Shade Tree Commission happened to plant a tree on your right-of-way this spring, would you mind watering it?

We're in a dry spell and young trees need water. Mayor Robert W. Cawley, pausing a moment at the Borough Hall drinking fountain, made the request after his weekly press conference.

A good bucket-full poured slowly around the base of the tree from time to time, is a good idea. Better than casual sprinkling with a hose: it's the roots that need the regular water supply.

Money is not the whole issue. The two Princetons are being asked to certify the project as a useful addition to the community.

Mayor Cawley said he and Council have questions on management control. They require professionals on the board of overseers, for example, and they want a clear statement describing exactly how Borough — and Township — would evaluate the project and control it.

The mayor also said that Borough and Township will act together on the project. A special meeting of Council may be held later in July for a decision, he said.

HOUSING MEETINGS SET

For 240-Unit Project. Three municipal meetings in a single week have given Princeton Community Housing, Inc. the kind of heady forward spurt the non-profit organization hasn't had since it was formed almost four years ago.

Up for review is the PCH proposal to build 240 units of middle and low income housing in Princeton Township. A special Regional Planning Board meeting was arranged for this Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall just to accommodate PCH.

Following that presentation, the group will appear this Thursday at 8 p.m. before the Township Zoning Board for a use variance.

The first of the three meetings was held last Thursday, when the Township's site plan review board looked over plans for the 240 units.

Site plan architects have not made any formal recommendation to the Planning Board; instead, they have submitted a report on the plans as presented, and made suggestions.

Recreation facilities should be shown in more detail, the review head says. At present, the plan shows only a possible swimming pool attached to a Community Building. Site planners feel that, since the project may house about 400 children, play areas should be planned in some detail for all ages.

Interior walks, signs for interior streets, drainage facilities and utilities should also be shown in more detail, the site board agreed.

TWO WEEKS AT CAMP

For Black Youngsters Here. Nearly 100 black youths from Princeton will spend two weeks at camp in North Jersey as part of the educational program sponsored by Princeton's Community House.

During the regular school year, Community House — which was established by Princeton students and is now directed largely through the efforts of two young graduates — involves some 40 University undergraduates and 70 local school children in a series of programs aimed at broadening experiences and improving academic skills of the children. It operates after school on weekdays.

This summer Community House is open throughout the day, all week long, in an expansion of its efforts to stimulate educational motivation among the youngsters attending the program.

A special feature of this summer's program will be two-week visits by the youngsters to the Princeton Summer Camp, a facility owned by the campus Student Christian Association, near Blairstown, N. J., about 60 miles north of here in the hill-and-lake country near the Delaware Water Gap.

Serve Local Needs. For many years the summer camp, with University students serving as counselors, has provided hundreds of children from Newark, Trenton, Camden, Philadelphia, New York as well as Princeton with an opportunity to spend a few weeks of summer recreation and fun. The camp is also used in the early fall as a training camp for the Princeton football team.

This year it was decided to link the camp program directly with Community House and take campers primarily from the Princeton area in order to serve more fully the needs of the local community. As a "teaching arm" of the Community House, the camp will emphasize education as well as recreation. The natural surroundings, for example, will be used to teach the campers lessons in ecology and conservation.

The director of Community House for the past year has been Gary Hoachlander, a 23-year-old 1970 graduate of Princeton, whose home town is Hagerstown, Md. Hoachlander will coordinate the Blairstown "extension" of Community House this summer. In the fall he will begin graduate studies at the University of California at Berkeley.

Heading up the operation back at the Witherspoon Street headquarters of Community House will be Leonard G. Brown, 22 years old, who just graduated from Princeton this June. Mr. Brown, who is from Phoenix, Ariz., will take over as director of Community House when Hoachlander leaves for graduate school.

Praise for Teachers. For its imaginative approaches during its school year program, Community House has won praise from local teachers in the public school system with whom its staff has consulted frequently.

Teachers and House staffers exchange information, for example, about "problem cases" that either has identified with the hope that through such shared information both the school and the after-school project, in their own ways, can help in the area of motivating a child.

Community House this summer has also become what is, in fact, a day-care center in that many of the parents of the children involved in the program both work. The House thus takes over some degree of supervision of children who might otherwise be completely at loose ends throughout the summer days.

Community House was honored in June by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services which presented the project its annual award for outstanding community service. This was the first time that the Council's award went to an organization rather than an individual.

FIVE ARE FINED

In Township Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township traffic court by Judge Burton Peskin.

Robert M. Reardon, 28, 40 Hawthorne Avenue, and John E. Rickett, 19, 62 Tee-Ar Place, each paid $15 for careless driving. Edward A. McEwen 3d, 22, 161 John Street, was fined $15 for passing a stopped school bus, and Elizabeth Simmons, 60, Amwell Road, Hopewell, paid the same amount for failing to yield after stopping.

Robert T. Williams, 73, of Rocky Hill paid two fines: $15 as an unlicensed driver and $15 for operating an unregistered car. He pleaded guilty to both.

Pays Three Fines: In Borough Court Monday, John P. Murray, 17, Cherry Valley Road, paid three fines.

Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined him $15 for improper display of plates and $10 each for driving on a sidewalk and overdue inspection. Speeding cost John V. Moran Jr., 17, 264 Dodds Lane, $18.

Not Mrs. Carpi

Interest in the disappearance of Mrs. Laura P. Carpi, who vanished from her State Road home on February 8, flickered again last month.

Township Detectives Norman Servis and Samuel Bianco, who are still handling the active investigation of the case, acted on information they received that a body found washed ashore off Brigantine resembled Mrs. Capri.

The body, never identified, had been hurried in a Brigantine cemetery. It reportedly was the same size as Mrs. Carpi and like Mrs. Carpi had gold fillings in the teeth.

Detectives Servis and Bianco obtained permission from a Superior Court judge to have the badly-decomposed body exhumed. It was examined by Mrs. Carpi's dentist, who agreed the dental work was similar but stated that it was not Mrs. Carpi.

MULTI-MUDDLES IN THE MIDDLE SCHOOL

FACT: Some years ago, Princeton had the reputation of having a SUPERIOR school system.

FACT: Princeton test norms, at that time, were two years ABOVE national norms.

FACT: Results of skill testing in the Middle School in recent years shows a SIGNIFICANT DROP in test scores!

QUESTION: Could it be, that the Administration's "do your own thing" learning and teaching philosophy, isn't as sound as we've been led to believe?

FACT: A year ago, three multi-age groups were begun as another experimental program.

FACT: ONE, out of the three multi-age teaching teams survived the end of the year intact.

QUESTION: How many students dropped out during the year? How many multi-age students will continue the program next year?

FACT: The multi-age teaching teams had only a two week grant of time and money to prepare for a year program.

FACT: Administration allowed for no auxiliary planning, no support, no direction to the teaching teams, and they did not inquire as to how the two week grants were used.

FACT: During the ten months of the multi-age program, the Administration did no observation of the groups, showed no interest, and offered no help.

FACT: Although multi-age was an "EXPERIMENT", Administration required no skill and aptitude testing at the beginning and the end of the year for a comparison of achievement scores. This is routine in other school systems trying this technique.

FACT: The Administration did NO EVALUATION of the program at the end of the year!

QUESTION: Since the Administration carefully avoided evaluation procedures which would have showed the strengths and weaknesses of the program, WHAT WAS THE BASIS for the decision to continue the multi-age program?

QUESTION: Explain the rationale behind Administration PUSHING a program into existence, and then ICNORING IT?

QUESTION: How many other "experiments" have shared the same fate — and are going on and on, POINTLESSLY?

QUESTION: What is it costing us — in educational standards — and money?

QUESTION: COULD OUR ADMINISTRATION BE "EXPERIMENTING" ONLY SO IT CAN BE CALLED INNOVATIVE?

FACT: For three years the Middle School faculty has requested and tried to initiate guidelines on discipline. They got no backing from Administration.

QUESTION: What kind of Administration and faculty reasoning allows the majority of our children and teachers to be subjected to verbal and physical abuse, intimidated and exploited by a minority of students?

QUESTION: Could it be that the Administration's emphasis on "understanding the reasons why children behave as they do", isn't a totally adequate answer to our school discipline problems?

FACT: Special Services kept a number of "problem" children "permanently assigned" to the Middle School Library last year. Outraged faculty got no action from Administration.

QUESTION: Explain the REASONING behind that?

FACT: The Middle School Special Services staff has decided to "push" reading skills in 1971-72.

FACT: The only (and a full time) Learning Disabilities Specialist in the Middle School was transfered to a teaching job for 1971-72.

FACT: As a replacement, the Middle School will have a Learning Disabilities Specialist CONSULTANT TO TEACHERS, one day a week — for 1100 students.

FACT: This "planning" seems more like "unplanning" — until you consider this —

QUESTION: Could this be THE BEGINNING OF THE PLAN for teachers to do the remedial work — and next the guidance?

QUESTION: Do you remember the guidance — special services controversy at PHS a month ago? When we asked the School Board about there being a plan for teachers to be "trained" to do the guidance — remedial work, the School Board said, "THAT WOULD BE PATENTLY ABSURD!"

FOR YOUR INFORMATION: The PHS teacher vote of NO-CONFIDENCE-IN-DR. McPHERSON was so "insignificant and meaningless", that some of the "alumni" of the School Board came to the High School and tried to stop it!

The purpose of Parents of Princeton School Children is to keep school issues alive, inform ALL parents of the facts, and let our teachers know WE SHARE THEIR CONCERN.

side Road, was fined $15 for thumbing a ride while standing in a roadway. For obstructing passage, Joel B. Arrington, 18, 177 Jefferson Road, paid $8.

DECISION DUE SOON

On Hopewell Twp. Pool Law. Hopewell Township residents with swimming pools should learn this week whether Hopewell Township Committee replans to draft an ordinance requiring fences around them.

Mayor Harry J. Collis announced the committee's plans following a 90-minute open hearing attended by 30 Township residents.

Speaking in favor of a fencing law, Robert Thomas, who will soon be moving to East Shore Road in Hopewell, said that home owners have a responsibility to take precautions against any accidents from the moment they decide to build their pool.

Mr. Thomas emphasized that any new ordinance should apply only to pool owners whose property is adjacent to the homes of families having young children.

Arrayed in opposition to any law were several pool owners. Thomas Blackwell, Oak Street complained that a fencing law would be extremely unfair to them.

"Next to my property, there is a big conservation lake which is only 40 feet behind my pool," Mr. Blackwell said. "Nobody is going to be fencing it, and the lake is a much bigger hazard than my pool." Parents should prevent pool accidents by preventing their children from running around on other people's property, he added.

How Tall are Taxes?

A land-use model of Princeton's Central Business District is part of the CBD study now being made by Charles K. Agle, newly appointed consultant to the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

Mr. Agle plans to construct a paper-and-paste model of the whole C.B.D. based on the Borough's tax map. Buildings will be scaled according to their assessed valuation per square foot.

Structures like One Palmer Square (which Mr. Agle designed, by the way, many years ago), would be the tallest building on the model because they pay the highest taxes. Buildings with low taxes, would be correspondingly small.

Hans K. Sander, planning board chairman, points out that with such a model, planners can see at a glance the "soft" and "hard" spots in the C.B.D. and more easily plan how to foster its growth.

TRENTON MAN ARRESTED

On Gun Charge. Township police last week arrested Edward Davis, 52, of Trenton and charged him with pulling a gun on Richard Silvis, 26, 16¼ Leigh Avenue.

According to police the alleged assault occured when both men, employees of Driveway Service, Inc. of Kingston were paving a drive on Finlay Drive. Released on his own recognizance, Davis is scheduled to appear in Township Court August 4.

RECYCLING ROUNDUP SET

For Conservation Care. Conservation - minded Princeton citizens will have a chance to be relieved of their accumulation of old tin cans, used glass jars and out-dated newspapers when the Conservation Coalition of Princeton holds its next recycling collection between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m., next Saturday, July 24, at the parking lot off Faculty Road.

The Coalition asks that everyone please come as early as possible to avoid a last minute crush, and any volunteers willing to spare some time to help should be there by 7:30.

As a safety precaution, helpers should wear long sleeves, and long pants; participants are requested to remain in their cars, which should be left out of gear, with the brake on.

Though it is no longer necessary to divide tin from other metals, aluminum should be kept separate. Also, glass should be sorted into brown, green and clear, and all newspapers tied in neat bundles.

CLAMBAKE TIME and the cookin' is being done by John Van Zandt (right) and Jim Terrsciano at the annual 'Bake' sponsored by the Montgomery Township Volunteer Fire Department. John and Jim are cooking clam fritters, a mixture of corn and clams in a batter deep-fried in fat. Jim was chairman of the first Clambake held so long ago that he can't remember if it was 1956 or '57. Also on the menu were steamed clams, clams on the halfshell, sausage, hot dogs, hamburgers, corn on the cob, birch beer and beer. $5 for all you could eat — the greatest bargain since the Indians sold Manhattan for $24.

PRINCETONIAN NAMED
To State Labor Position.

Gordon Knox Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Knox, 55 Mountain Avenue, is one of several men appointed to the Department of Labor and Industry as a confidental agent.

The move is part of a plan by Commissioner Ronald M. Heymann to bring in a dozen new people to form a new management team in the department. Presently touring Europe with his wife, Mr. Knox previously worked for the Republican National Finance Committee in Washington.

The 28-year old graduate of Arizona University will be assigned to the area of economic development.

DR. CROCCO NAMED

Propulsioo Award Winner.

Dr. Luigi M. Crocco, until this month Professor of Aerospace Propulsion at Princeton University, has been named the 1971 winner of the James H. Wyld Propulsion Award, an annual award given jointly by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Dr. Crocco was honored for his work in liquid propellant rocket combustion instability, research done at Princeton over the past 20 years. The late James H. Wyld, for whom the award is named, was a member of the Princeton Class of 1935 and a pioneer developer of rocket engineers.

Dr. Crocco resigned his Princeton professorship to return to his native Italy.

A member of Princeton's faculty for some two decades, Dr. Crocco was the first incumbent of Princeton's Robert H. Goddard Professorship of Jet Propulsion, a chair honoring the memory of the rocket pioneer and endowed in large part by a gift of the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation.

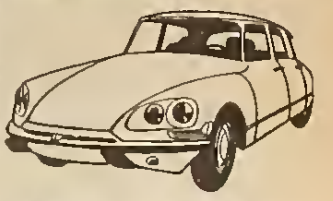
Survey Needs Volunteers

Volunteers are being sought by the Princeton Recreation Department to help conduct a telephone survey for finding the recreational needs in the community.

Those interested would be asked to spend several nights a week at home calling Princeton residents to complete a question-and-answer survey.

Prospective workers are asked to call 921-9480 and leave their name and number so that times can be arranged for orientation in interviewing techniques.

The Citroen. It's so different it will take courage to buy it.



After you get to know it, it will take courage to buy anything else.

DIAMONDS ARE NOT A GIRLS BEST FRIEND in baseball, anyway. Tom Hagadron, Elizabeth Finmenero and Mike Boccanfuso (l. to r.) all think that girls should be given a chance to play on Little League teams, but Mike would allow only the cream of the cream to play.

Question Of The Week

Question: Do you think girls should be allowed to play on Little League teams?

Where asked: Harrison Street Playground.

John Boccanfuso, 56 Fisher Avenue, seventh grader: Yeah, I think they ought to. If they really want to play they ought to have a fair chance.

Elizabeth Finmenero, 11 Patton Avenue, fifth-grader: Yes, because some girls are just as equal as some boys not only in baseball but in any sport!

Tom Hagadorn, 20 Vandeventer Avenue, seventh-grader No, only some of them. Let them all try out but cut the ones that are no good. Some girls can't even swing a bat. Only the girls who are good enough should be allowed. Otherwise they ruin a good thing. I wouldn't mind playing with girls as long as they are good.

Gary Coluccio, 148 Cedar Lane, seventh-grader: No, because if they could play it would really change it. They might be able to play in the major league if you let them start in little league. There would be no stopping them.

Mike Boccanfuso, 56 Fisher Avenue, ninth-grader: No, because from what I've seen, they haven't been able to play as well as boys. They don't hit as good, they don't run as good, they can't throw as good and I think they would look pretty funny in uniforms.

Eileen Robertiello, 34 Wilton Street, eighty-grader: Yes why shouldn't they be able to play? They may look kind of funny in uniforms as Mike said but I know a lot of girls just as good as boys in baseball. Right here at this playground there are girls as good as boys. We ought to be given a chance.

Evan Ruderman, 204 North Harrison, seventy-grader: Yes, because everyone should have the fun- not just the boys.

Barbara Miller, 20 Wilton St. seventy-grader: Yes, I think they should have a chance to play whether they are good or not. Some people want them to play only if they are good players but even if they are not they could learn by playing.

Ethan Crimmins, 287 Nassau Street, fourth-grader: Yes. some are good, some are bad. My mother played on a little league team in Connecticut. Some of the girls right here are good. Barbara Miller is good enough to play on a team.

Mark Miller, 20 Wilton St., fourth-grader: Yes because girls don't always have a chance to play sports and boys do. That's not fair. Some of the girls are pretty good. Some! Not too many.

Mario Mangone, 78 Spruce Street, fifth grader: I don't care. . .why not? Why can't they play. Only put the ones that are good on then draft the others away. First, they should know how to play baseball. Some girls are pretty good.

Pam Davison, 193 Harrison Street, ninth-grader: I don't see why not. Some boys are bad, some girls are better than boys. I know a lot of girls who always play boys' games and they're pretty good. I like football and basketball better than baseball. Would I like to play on a midget league football team? Sure.

Craig Roughgarden, 12 Humbert Street, fifth-grader: Only the ones that are good. If they want to play they should be given the chance.

Tony Finmenero, 111 Patton Avenue fourth-grader: Yes, because I think girls are the equal of boys - even in baseball.

Laine Ivan, 79 Jefferson Rd. fifth-grader: Yes. I don't like it that much but my sister is good enough to play.

DR. MACLEOD MOVING From ORC to Rutgers. Dr. Jennifer S. Macleod, formerly chief psychologist at Opinion Research Corporation in Princeton, has been appointed director of the newly-organized Center for the American Woman and Politics at the Eagleton Institute of Politics of Rutgers University.

The Center, funded by the Ford Foundation, has been formed in recognition of the fact that women, who comprise over half of the adult public, are severely under-represented in public affairs decision-making, and that their needs, concerns and abilities often are overlooked by the predominantly male political leadership.

The Center will undertake and encourage research and education related to increasing the effective participation of women in public affairs.

Dr. Macleod received her Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology, magna cum laude, from Radcliffe College in 1949. Recipient of the Higgins and University Fellowships to study research psychology at Columbia University, she was awarded her Master of Arts degree in 1952 and her Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1958.

While completing her graduate work, Dr. Macleod held research positions with Richardson, Bellows, Henry; McCann-Erickson, and Ogilvy, Benson and Mather, all in New York City.

Active in Women's Lib. In 1958, she joined Opinion Research Corporation as a survey director. She was later promoted to research director, and, in 1969, became chief psychologist. She is a member of American Psychological Association and the Association for Women in Psychology.

Active in the women's rights movement, Dr. Macleod is a charter member of the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Organization for Women (N.O.W.) and served as its first president, 1969-70.

She is also a member of the National Women's Political Caucus, and has served as chairman of the board of the University-N.O.W. Day Nursery, a non-profit day care center in Princeton. She has spoken before many groups on topics related to women's rights.

She is the wife of John A. Macleod, a vice-president of Young Rubicam, advertising agency. The Macleods have two children, Pamela, 10 years old, and Scott, nine. They live 4 Canoe Brook Drive, Princeton Junction.

Functions of Center. The establishment of the Center for the American Woman and Politics was made possible by a $50,000 grant from the Ford Foundation. It will have four main functions. The first will be research and publication on the changing social and economic status of women in relation to their participation and psychological involvement in the political process.

The gathering, dissemination and supplying of requested information will be its second activity. The Center's third function will be to hold interdisciplinary conferences and meetings and to encourage research aimed at stimulating ideas on women's place in political life.

The fourth area of activity will be to educate women in the political process and forms of political action. This will include the preparation and initiation of model legislation and

Job Offer in 1932 Brings $1,000 Bequest in '71

An 83-year old spinster, who died last year, has left $1,000 of her small estate to Princeton University, in appreciation for a timely job offer during the depths of the depression.

Miss Adelaide Gemberling was alone, without a job and struggling desperately to make ends meet in 1932 when the University appointed her Librarian of its Chemistry Library.

The then 52-year old spinster, who lived in a small frame house in the countryside in the Mt. Rose area of Hopewell, was to work at Princeton for 14 years, until statutory retirement in 1946 at age 65.

She raised some chickens on her 3-acre lot; maintained one of the best gardens around; continued an active interest in politics begun years before as a suffragette and contributed to the community as an arden Women's Clubber and long-time member of Hopewell's Roundabout Club. She harbored cats and kittens — so many, in fact, that local youngsters used to call her the "cat lady."

A staunch Quaker, she sincerely believed "all men are created equal, and she lived what she believed," according to a neighbor and friend.

She was an only child born of a Civil War veteran and his wife, Downeasters who migrated to the Midwest and settled in Albion, Mich. It was there that Adelaide Gemberling was raised by her mother after her father, an editor, died when she was only four.

No Funds for Ph.D. She went to Albion College, a small, Methodist liberal arts college in her hometown, for three years, and then finished her bachelor's degree work at the University of Michigan in 1902. Then came a Michigan master's degree (1906) in chemistry, physics and mathematics. Her attempts to study for a Ph.D. were frustrated when her own funds were not adequate and fellowships for women in those days were virtually impossible to obtain.

An early job carried her to Wells College, in upstate New York, where she taught science and mathematics. She also taught at Benton Harbour Junior College, Mich., and at high schools in Connecticut and in Mount Holly and Mendham.

In 1918, still taking care of her mother, she bought the house in rural Hopewell. Her mother died in 1930 — and Adelaide Gemberling was alone except for her chickens and cats and the friendships she cultivated in her daily living.

In April 1970, a week before her 90th birthday — slight of build but always alert — Miss Gemberling died in a nursing home in neighboring Neshanic, a quarter-century after retiring from the job at Princeton which had sustained her from the Depression through World War II.

There were no close relatives, and the estate — a small one left by a woman whose life had not been easy — was willed to a number of neighbors and friends. Among the friends was Princeton University, which, it was confirmed last week, received an unrestricted bequest of $1,000.

The funds are being assigned for the purchase of books in her memory for the Chemistry Library — in appreciation of dedicated service by an energetic little woman who cared.

They think that wood furniture should be made of wood, brass lamps of brass, and that plastic is best restricted to toothbrush handles and toys. And they've done something about their idea: assembled several hundred fine upholstered pieces, museum re-creations, hand-crafted accessories, and custom-made furnishings, and put them all under one roof at Cane Farm. the exploration of methods by which women's rights can be made effective in various areas, such as law and medicine.

This fourth phase of the Center's work will involve bringing more women into the Eagleton Fellowship Program, not only young women who have recently received their bachelor's degrees, but also women beyond college age whose lightened responsibilities at home enable them to return to school.

It is hoped that a curriculum in practical politics can be developed that will utilize the facilities not only of the Eagleton Institute, but also of the other branches of Rutgers University, including Livingston College, Douglass College, University College, the evening adult division, and the Center for Continuing Education.

VOTING LAW DISCUSSED

By Rep. Frank Thompson. Some of the ramifications of the new 26th Amendment to the Constitution, granting 18 to 21 years olds the right to vote in local and state elections as well as federal are discussed by Rep. Frank Thompson.

Of particular interest to Princeton residents is the question of whether students will be allowed to register where they attend school or in their hometowns. Earlier this year, a group of University students were blocked from registering at Borough Hall, and a suit challenging present laws is now in progress. Rep. Thompson's comments follow:

"On June 30, the 26th Amendment to the Constitution, granting eighteen to twenty-one year olds the right to vote in local and state as well as Federal elections, won final approval. The effect this Amendment will have on the outcome of elections this November and in the next few years is still in doubt. Yet no one questions that these approximately 11 million new, young voters will be a major influence on the public life of the country, and a force to be reckoned with by anyone seeking political office.

"Two issues could conceivably blunt the effect of the enfranchisement of these young voters. The first is that the experience in those states which allow eighteen year-olds to vote suggests that young people frequently turn out in relatively smaller numbers than their older counterparts.

"In Georgia and Kentucky, states where eighteen-year-old voting has long been allowed by state law, a Bureau of the Census study indicates the following: 33 percent of those interviewed in the eighteen through twenty year age range reported voting in the 1968 Presidential election. The overall voting rate in those states, however, was 43 percent. Such figures also hold true in most other states, where the participation of under-thirty year old voters compared unfavorably with the voting population as a whole.

"Yet the most recent reports from registration drives throughout the country show an unprecedented interest in that act which must preceed voting registering. The proliferation of registration programs aimed exclusively at the young has already put an estimated million and a half new registrants in the eighteen through twenty year age group on the voting rolls.

"As such programs continue during the school year, in high schools and colleges, there is every reason to expect this enthusiasm to carry over to the voting booth. It may not even be too much to hope that this new interest in voting will infect the parents of these voters. I for one would not be surprised to see an increase in voter participation in the next few years which cuts across age lines.

Where to Register. "The other issue which may mitigate the effects of the new Amendment is the question of where students can register. Most states prohibit students from registering where they attend school if the school is not in the same election district as their home. Yet such students would probably not vote very heavily if forced to register at home and vote by absentee ballot.

"The picture of large numbers of college students registering in a college community has aroused much concern among residents of these communities. While it seems unlikely that students could "take over" a town electorally, they would nevertheless have the potential for challenging the existing power structure in many places.

"Without a proprietary interest in such communities some local officials suggest, these students might tend to vote irresponsibly. Clearly, some compromise must be effected which will protect the local political structure while enabling the students to exercise their rights. In any event, this issue will be settled in the state and Federal Courts, where challenges to state laws are already under consideration.

"The passage of the 26th Amendment is an affirmation of the faith Americans have in their young. It represents an acknowledgment of the fact that people grow up faster, and are better prepared to assume public responsibilities at an earlier age than their parents.

"This country's young are demonstrably concerned about the social and political problems of this era; they are now challenged to translate this concern into action at the polls. It would be a grave misfortune if either their own apathy, or legal impediments, prevented them from doing so."

MY MOVE: Michael Huey, 5, executes a brilliant maneuver against his sister, Sue Ling Huey, 10, in a cool game of checkers on a hot afternoon. The Princeton Public Library provides checker games, jig-saw puzzles, records to listen to and plenty of air-conditioning for customers of all ages.

A eight run fourth, highlighted by Max Hopkins' grand slam sewed up matters for RCA. Tom Connelly and John Meyers had three hits each for RCA and Tom Roberts had two.

Bob Gotwald held Hopewell TV to just four runs on six hits, while his mates pounded out 15 hits, good for 15 runs in Astro's triumph. Joe Skiba hit two home runs in a nine-run second inning that put the game on ice for the winners.

Over in the east, McGraw Hill held on to its one game edge over ETS, with a 19-9 thumping of third place FMC. ETS scored in every inning to defeat IDA, 17-7. Bill Degler, Will Lane and Dave Heath had three hits apiece. Lane and Willie Turner hit for the circuit.

American Cyanamid suddenly came to life, rapping out 29 hits for a 31-13 trouncing of Firmenich. Tim Gavin blasted two home runs, Nelson Nichols and Eric Guido had one apiece. Bob Pagano hit one for the losers.

Pat Conallay led the Red onslaught with four goals. Mike Skinner and Scott VanArsdalen each tallied three times while Phil Nollner and Art Cleary had two apiece. Nick Rossi scored both of the losers' goals.

Tony Reish proved to be too much for Navy to handle. Reish scored five goals to pace Green to a 10 to 7 win. He received support from Noel Belli and Tony Bruckner, who combined for four scores and Brad Faus who added one.

Jon Pettit led Navy with three goals. Scott Meade and Steve Zaner had a pair each.

LEAGUE TIGHTENS AGAIN

As Ivy Inn Loses. Only one game separates the top three teams in the Princeton Adult Softball League, as a result of last week's action.

Conte's Bar won both its games to move into a tie for first with Ivy Inn. Teague & Hinds climbed to within one when it upset Ivy Ino, 5-4.

Conte's ripped The Country Squire, 6-1, Monday night, paced by the bat of Bill McQuade who batted 4-for 4 and scored a run. Dick Fowler got the win.

Earlier, Conte's was carried to nine innings by last-place Nassau-Conover Motors before notching a 6-5 victory. With two out in the ninth, McQuade and Bob Anderson singled. Jim Quinn then followed with another single, scoring McQuade with the winning run and making a winner of hurler Al Matlack in relief. McQuade and Brian Henninger each had three hits for Conte's.

Dave Sweeney, John Armonia, Bruce Sandvik and Joe Cimerola each had two hits for Nassau-Conover.

In another extra-inning, one-run contest, Teague & Hinds handed Dave Britton of Ivy Inn his first loss as the Icemen fashioned a 5-4 win. George McVaughn's hit scored the wining run from second base. Fran Brooks, who has been on a hitting tear, had three hits for Teague's. Pete Young got the win.

Ivy was led by Tony Pirone who had four hits in four appearances and scored a run.

Earlier, Brooks rapped four hits in four at bats and Dan Alleyne belted a pair of homers to power Teague's to a 14-3 romp over The Country Squire. Steve McLaine added two hits and scored twice for the victors, while Chris Hagadorn had two hits for the losers.

Ivy, meanwhile, maintained a piece of first place with its 11-4 victory last Wednesday over Grover's Hustlers. Richie Volz paced the Barmen with three hits and three RBIs.

The Hustlers also took it on the chin on Monday, falling 9-4 to Varsity Sport Shop. Floyd Phox and John Pesce combined for six Varsity hits. Pesce's homer in the fifth capping a three-run inning.

After watching the Hustlers take a 4-1 margin, Varsity forged ahead with a seven-hit, five run fourth inning. Floyd Phox got credit for the win.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Ivy Inn	8	2	.800
Conte's	8	2	.800
Teague's	7	3	.700
Squire	4	5	.444
Varsity	3	6	.333
Hustler's	2	7	.222
Conover	1	8	.111

HARVEY, BOSS WIN

In Bedens Brook Event. Ned Harvey and Lee Ross were the winners last week in a junior tennis round robin held at the Bedans Brook Country Club.

Anne Russell and Mike Hill finished second and Jay Gibson and Peter Lawson-Johnston came in third.

RICK EMBLEY, former standout second baseman for the Hun School, is batting over .500 for The Country Squires in the Princeton Adult Softball League.

SIX INDOOR TENNIS COURTS will be housed in this air-conditioned building that Tennis International Inc. plans to build on Washington Road in West Windsor Township. Site will be the old Princetoo Swim Club property. The pool will be bulldozed and the bath house razed. The firm, which has similar facilities in operation in Mt. Kisco, Hartford and Teaneck and has about 10 more under construction throughout the nation, received the necessary variances and approval from the West Windsor Zoning Board and Committee. The building will be completely landscaped. Owners of the facility have reportedly approached John Conroy of the Princeton Community Tennis Program and just-retired tennis coach at Princeton University to manage the courts and organize group instructional programs. In following their procedure of working with existing local tennis people, the owners have also offered Mrs. Eve Kraft, director of the Princeton Community Tennis Program, free office space to house her expanding tennis activities.

SCHOOLBOY IS DEALER

In Iranian Handcrafts. An engaging and enterprising schoolboy walked into Gallery 100 one day recently and said he'd noticed in TOWN TOPICS that the Gallery had traveling shoppers in various parts of the world. He wondered if there would be any interest in some things he'd collected in Iran.

The boy, Dariush Arasteh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Reza Arasteh of the Magie Apartments, showed Mrs. James Faus of the Gallery exquisite ivories from Isfahan, an inlaid box from Shiraz, pieces of jewelry, block-printed wall hangings and other items, all collected during a year-long stay in Iran when he was in 5th grade.

His father, a professor of psychology at Princeton, is Iranian, and Dariush became deeply interested in the arts and crafts of his paternal forebears.

"I took the correspondence course for 5th grade when we were in Tehran and I had lots of time because you can go as fast as you want to. So I developed the hobby of collecting," he explains.

Gallery 100, charmed by his enterprise and impressed by his sense of art, has added him to its list of scouts and is displaying articles from his collection for sale.

A sixth grader at Community Park School last year, he enters seventh in the fall an established entrepreneur between the Gallery and his sources in Iran, which include an aunt who is an artist and old friend of his father's, "who is a sort of a dealer."

YOUTHFUL DEALER: Dariush Arasteh with some of the Iranian arts and crafts from his collection on sale at Gallery 100. He plans to replenish his stock through friends and relatives in Iraq.

ACQUISITION SET

By Princeton Applied Research. Princeton Applied Research Corporation and Systems Metals Corporation announced today their agreement in principle for the purchase by P.A.R. of a substantial majority of the common stock of Systems Metals Corp. for cash.

Systems Metals Corp. of Princeton was established in August, 1970 to commercially utilize newly developed technology in the field of hydrostatic metal forming. Systems Metals Corp has entered into cross-licensing agreements with Western Electric Company in the hydrostatic metal forming field, and, under a non-exclusive license in the Western Electric patents, intends to manufacture and sell specialty metal products and high pressure extrusion machines.

Roderick J. Place, President of Systems Metal Corp., will continue in that capacity. Jack D. Stewart, Sr. and Anthony C. Keathley have recently joined Systems Metals Corp. as Vice President Manufacturing and Vice President Engineering, respectively. Mr. Stewart was most recently manager of Precision Parts Operations for Standard Pressed Steel Corporation in Jenkintown, Pa., and Mr. Keathley was previously Engineering Manager for the Solid Rocket Division of Rocketdyne Corp.

P.A.R. manufacures scientific instruments, and has annual sales in excess of $5 million. Systems Metals Corp. will operate as a subsidiary of P.A.R. with an initial capitalization in excess of one-half million dollars.

MORTGAGE LENDING UP

At Princeton Savings. Mortgage lending soared by approximately 32 percent at Princeton Savings and Loan Association since June 30, 1970, according to an analysis of the Institution's semi-annual statement of condition released by William Boozer, Jr., president.

The increase amounts to a gain of $5,739,660, "heralding a trend that should continue throughout the year," Mr. Boozer said. "Even during the recession, the demand for mortgage money in this area remains high," he added. For the first six months of this year alone, the figure rose by $3,151,000 to a total of $23,799,505.

Assets rose by $3,882,000 since December 31st, 1970, to a record $27,062,975, with the six month's gain in savings reported at an impressive $3,256,000 to a total of $24,083,488.

During the period, $610,741 in dividends was distributed to savers, as Princeton Savings continues to offer the nation's highest rate paid on Regular Savings Accounts, 5 percent a year.

WINNER ANNOUNCED

For Lisi Door Prize. The winner of the goldplate table setting for four by Oneida offered by Samuel Lisi Paint and Wallpaper Co. as a door prize during its first two weeks in business has been identified as R. Primka, 8 Lamar Road, Lawrence Township. The drawing was held Monday.

Mr. Lisi, satisfied with the response to his new store at 266 Witherspoon Street opposite Princeton Hospital, said customers came from all over the Princeton area to get acquainted with the store and take advantage of the opening specials.

"There are people who have come in here who are happy that the Murphy Paint line is back in Princeton," Mr. Lisi commented. It hasn't been available here since Boyce Lumber closed. One of them was a professional painter who had painted his own house with it eight years ago. We should have made a tape recording of everything he said!

Manager C. W. Duvall was struck by the amount of paint the customers bought, a number of orders amounting to $30 or more. One woman took home $180 in paints.

In the fall, Lisi Paint & Wallpaper Co. plans to add a full line of hardware items.

Obituaries

Samuel G. Frantz, 74, of 64 Battle Road, died in the Princeton Hospital July 12. At the time of his death he was president of the S. G. Frantz Co., Inc., of Trenton, a firm which he had founded many years before.

He was born in Duluth, Minn. His family went to Edinburgh, Scotland after his father's death, where Mr. Frantz attended the Edinburgh Academy for two years. In 1910 they moved to Princeton and Mr. Frantz attended Lawrenceville School, then Princeton University, 1914-1919 (as a member of the Class of 1918), graduating with the degree of C.E. and being elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society and the Society of Sigma Xi.

In 1923 he took his M.S. in Physics, and he spent the following year in Paris at the Ecole Superieure d'Electricite.

During the First World War, Mr. Frantz was first a driver in the American Ambulance Field Service, S.S.U. 18, and then a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Service (Aero.), the observation balloon service. During the Second World War, he was Chief, Operations Analysis Section, Ninth and Fifteenth U.S. Air Forces, North Africa and Italy. The greatest of his accomplishments was his demonstration to all of our air forces that an attacking plane should aim behind the intended victim rather than in front of it.

After various jobs in the field, he founded his own company, manufacturer of magnetic separation equipment in 1936. In that year he patented an isodynamic separator, which separates mixtures of minerals into their component constituents on the basis of their magnetic susceptibilities; in 1937, a wet electromagnetic separator, which is sold throughout the world as the Frantz FerroFilter.

Mr. Frantz was an officer of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs, and a member of the Dessoff Choirs of New York.

Surviving are his wife, Sarah Morton Frantz; his three daughters, Mrs. Frantz Mayo of Princeton, Mrs. Thomas D. Wellington of Princeton, and Mrs. Courtney Allen Latimer of Woodbridge, Suffolk, England; his brother, Dr. Angus Macdonald Frantz of New York, three sisters, Mrs. John Russell, Jr. of Gladwyne, Pa., Mrs. Hamilton Cottier of Princeton, and Mary A. Frantz of Princeton and Athens; and seven grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Princeton University Chapel.

Clarence H. Steelman Sr., 72, died July 12 at his home on Quaker Bridge Road. He was past president of the New Jersey Nurserymen's Association.

Born in Northfield, Mr. Steelman operated a nursery on the farm on which he lived. He was past president of the New Jersey Horticulture Society, former vice-president of the New Jersey Board of Agriculture, a member of the Princeton Agriculture Association, the Moorestown Grange and the Princeton United Methodist Church.

Husband of the late Eva McL. Steelman, he is survived by a son, Clarence Jr. of Princeton; a grandson, Richard P. Steelman of Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Hannah Gant of Philadelphia.

The service will be held at 12:30 p.m. this Thursday from the Mather Funeral Home, 40 Vandeventer Avenue. The Rev. Jay K. Helms of Princeton Methodist Church will officiate. Interment will be in the Friends Central Cemetery, Linwood. Calling hours at the Mather Home were scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Edith Blackwell, 87, formerly of Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, died July 10 in Foothill Acres Nursing Home, Neshanic, after a long illness.

Born in Pennington, where she lived all of her life, she was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church and of the Women's Association.

Several nieces and nephews survive her.

The service was held in the Blackwell Memorial Home, the Rev. Donald I. Thiel, assistant pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was in Pennington Cemetery.

Frank Kowalczyk, 57, of State Road, died suddenly on July 9 in Princeton Hospital. He was the owner of the Wooden Wheel Inn, State Road.

Surviving are a sister and two brothers in Poland.

Mass of the resurrection was celebrated in St. Paul's Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Frank Watz, 77, of 95 Linden Lane, died July 11 in the Merwick unit of Princeton Hospital.

Born in Hungary, he was a priavte chauffer residing in Princeton since 1914. He was a member of Princeton Council 636, Knights of Columbus.

WHERE . . .

WHERE ELSE . . .

But at Country Antiques can you find . . .

A baby walker — probably not 18th Century but definitely early and with charm.

Fresh crisp old bisque dolls.

Depression glass, if you must — fortunately not too much (probably were wedding gifts).

Captain's chairs — some call them bar chairs, both early, one with back beautifully slanted.

A lovely little "lamcy" Sheraton fireside chair, delicate, early, with rush seat.

Etching by George Bradshaw of Barnegat Light (Jersey shore).

Regional silver — N.J., Philadelphia, N.Y. and Hartford, Conn.

A SHAWL — the rare beautiful kind from Persia or Arabia, possibly 2 or 3 hundred years old.

Isn't it lovely" to be the first to see a new listing when it comes on the market? Well, today you have that opportunity! We have three of the loveliest new listings to appear in our area in a long time. All of them on exquisite wooded lots, too. We'll describe them briefly below, but would ask that you call to see them personally. We'll be expecting you.

IN PRINCETON'S RIVERSIDE . . . on an exceptionally nice corner wooded lot . . . a spacious Hunt & Augustine house that's now ten years young. Airy front to back center hall, wonderful living room with fireplace and windows on two sides, french doors to the patio on another. Dining room, kitchen, mini den, powder room. Upstairs: master suite with large bath, three other bedrooms and bath . . . and a super large family or recreation room. Centrally air conditioned. All it needs is a coat of paint. $85,000

IN MONTGOMERY PARK, ON THE EVER POPULAR ROBIN DRIVE . . . we have a 4-year-old cedar shake colonial on a heavenly acre of tall trees and garden paths . . . just like a small estate. The rooms are large, however. Entry, living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen, family room with fireplace, utility room, powder room AND DEN. Upstairs: master suite with bath, 4 other bedrooms and large bath. Centrally air-conditioned. A lot of living space! $75,900

ALSO IN MONTGOMERY, AND VERY CLOSE TO PRINCETON . . . is a true colonial reproduction by the late, celebrated Royal Barry Wills. A gambrel cape cod of graduated cedar boards nestled beneath tall trees and surrounded by wild flowers in natural beds. Living room with fireplace, dining room with corner cabinet, kitchen with fireplace and dutch door to the patio, den, two foyers, powder room. Upstairs: two bedrooms and bath. Extras like pewter lighting fixtures, handmade bricks in the fireplaces, handsome hardward on the panelled doors, beamed ceilings! It's a must! $79,000

AND DON'T FORGET . . .
OUT IN HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP, JUST BEYOND PENNINGTON, WE HAVE A CHARMING SPOT THAT OFFERS A MINI-ESTATE TO TAKE YOU AWAY FROM THE HUSTLE AND BUSTLE OF BOROUGH LIFE. A super comfortable clapboard ranch with lots of living space inside, and park-like grounds out. Four bedrooms, two baths, living room with fireplace and adjoining porch, dining room with built-in cupboard, modern kitchen, bar, and family room. Full basement; centrally air-conditioned. The 24+ acres contain tall trees, campsites, riding trails, pasture, riding ring and small barn for the horses. Also a large, well-maintained pool with full cabana facilities. Come sit on the rose trellised patio overlooking the Olympic-sized pool and enjoy the peace. You'll want to stay forever. $122,000

WE HAVE THAT ARSOLUTELY DELIGHTFUL MELLOW GREEN RANCH ON ROSEDALE ROAD! THE ONE THAT CONTRASTS SO BEAUTIFULLY WITH THE SOFT PINK ROSES ON ITS SPLIT RAIL FENCE! — Three bedrooms, two baths, a large front to back living room with fireplace, comfortable dining room, functional kitchen, air-conditioned on about four acres with peace and seclusion on the patio side, and a high, magnificent view of the Hopewell Valley on the other. The master suite with sitting room and second patio is too inviting to resist. $69,500

FOR THE GROWING FAMILY WHO WOULD LIKE TO FEEL THEIR OATS IN THE GOOD, CLEAN COUNTRY AIR . . . there's our house dating farther back than 1805! Located on 3½ acres on the Griggstown Road between Princeton and Belle Mead. Presently used as a two family with an income of $3,600 per yr. and taxes of only $1,500! Opening 2 doors makes it a large gracious home or keeping it "as is" makes it ideal for the man who needs "write-offs"! Each side has living room, dining room, mud room, modern kitchen, two baths . . . one side has 4 bedrooms, the other 3. Fully restored in 1962 so mechanically, it's great. Come see it . . . talk to the turkeys, ride the horse . . . collect some fresh eggs . . . taste the raspberries . . . you'll want to move right in. $74,500

A SMALL TOWNHOUSE IN HOPEWELL WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE OF THE HISTORIC HOPEWELL HOUSE. SIX ROOMS, two baths, lovely yard, quiet street, recently painted. Can easily be used as a two family with two three-room apartments. Separate entrances. Lots of possibilities. REDUCED TO: $32,000!

THAT VERY SPECIAL HOUSE in RIVERSIDE . . . Originally built longer and wider than others in the area. Later, centrally air-conditioned. The garden has been tended with utmost care. Foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, family room with new indoor-outdoor carpeting, powder room, large basement. Three bedrooms, two baths. $59,500

THE SMALL HOUSE . . . custom built in the Rattlefield Park area, with soft brick facade, and long low lines . . . all set off by mature shrubs and trees, and rich carpet-like lawn. Large living room with fireplace, dining room, wonderful kitchen with breakfast area, two bedrooms, two baths, panelled recreation room with wet bar and powder room. Central air-conditioning. New carpeting. Freshly painted. Lots of expansion. $105,000

WOODED LOTS FOR SALE! A MOST ATTRACTIVE SETTING IN A NEARBY TOWNSHIP JUST OUTSIDE HOPEWELL. Some with a brook and stream . . . please call us for details.

SPECIAL ITEM: A LONG-TERM LEASE . . . AVAILABLE OCT. 1 . . . New 4-bedroom colonial, family room, 3 baths. Overlooks pond. Complete privacy on spectacular country setting. $600 per month

WE HAVE A FURNISHED RENTAL FROM EARLY JULY FOR SIX MONTHS ON CARTER ROAD 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. $375 per mon.

BEING TRANSFERRED? . . . Want instant money for your house? If you're in a hurry and will take an appraised price, POTTERE will buy your house to give you the cash you need for your new location. Call us for details.

Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
